TIMESAVERDIALS
HANDPAINTED ANTIQUE CLOCK DIALS

ANNOUNCEMENT

Chad and Kay Mitchell, TimeSaverDials, have now officially retired and announce that they sold their clock dial restoration business to Bryan Smith of Raleigh NC, owner of The Clocksmith. Bryan's artists began training with Kay and Chad for dial restoration in May. Bryan and his team are dedicated to continue the same quality service provided by TimeSaverDials. Bryan is accepting silvered dials immediately and painted dials on July 15 and thereafter.

Please contact Bryan at phone: 1-919-649-0120.

YOU Can Help! Become a Friend of the Collection

The Friends of the Collection program brings together people with a personal commitment to strengthening and preserving the National Watch & Clock Museum's collections. Your donation is tax deductible and will be used solely to cover expenses associated with the care and preservation of objects in the collection.

Whether your passion is clocks, watches, or horological tools, membership in the Friends of the Collection program provides a special opportunity to preserve the art and artifacts of our shared horological past. Demonstrate your enthusiasm for this mission with other collectors through your annual support of the Museum's collection care. Members of the Friends of the Collection program can arrange for personal tours of the Museum's collection storage areas and private examinations of Museum objects during their visits to the Museum. The names of Friends of the Collection also are listed on a display panel at the entrance to the Museum exhibit galleries.

Become a part of the nation's largest horological museum, where the collection is truly representative of the whole history of the art, science, and history of time and timekeeping. By joining the Friends program, you support the Museum's world-class collection of horological artifacts so that they will be available for future generations to study and enjoy.
